1. Use of the platform

Appelsoft Event helps visitors discover events and organizers submit events. Use the platform carefully and only for lawful purposes.

2. Account and data

An account may be required to submit events. You are responsible for correct account details and for protecting your password.

3. Submitting events

Submitted events must be accurate, current and appropriate. Misleading, unlawful, discriminatory, spam-like or harmful information may be rejected or removed.

4. Review and moderation

Appelsoft Event may review, edit, reject or remove events when needed for quality, safety or compliance with these terms.

5. Availability

We try to keep the platform available, but cannot guarantee uninterrupted operation. Maintenance, outages or external services may have an impact.

6. Liability

Event information is shown as carefully as possible. Always verify important details with the organizer. Appelsoft Event is not responsible for changes, cancellations or damage from participation.

7. Changes

These terms may be updated. The current version is shown on this page with version number, creation date and update date.
